ICA General Medicine

Objectives

- To participate in acute, sub-acute and rehabilitation management of patients in hospital and in the community.
- To participate in the multidisciplinary approach and holistic care of patients.
- To become competent in history taking, physical examination, cognitive, functional and social assessment of the patients.
- To be able to diagnose, investigate and manage common medical conditions.
- To understand the relevance and be able to interpret urinary, haematological, biochemical and radiological investigations relevant to patient diagnosis.
- To be able to carry out basic bedside investigation procedures including venisection, cannulation and blood taking.
- To be able to understand formulation of discharge after-care and community services.
- To be able to write discharge summaries on allocated patients.
- To be able to communicate effectively with local doctors, health care providers both in hospital and in the community.